

Call for Student Committee Members

BeSST is a national community of medical educators interested in how behavioural and social sciences are taught in medicine. Our mission is to positively influence these subjects to enhance the care of patients and populations.

Are you a current medical student interested in behavioural and social sciences? Join the committee!

What You Will Do:

- Attend online committee meetings (approx. 4 per year)
- Provide guidance on curriculum projects and teaching resources
- Devise and deliver student-led projects
- Develop a peer network and gain mentorship opportunities

How To Apply:

- Write a 200-word statement about what you bring to the role and why you want to join the committee
- Submit to Lauren Hardie-Bick at l.hardie-bick@bsms.ac.uk

Deadline: 1 May 2025
